The '60

echo

*Northeast Missouri State Teachers
Kirksville, Missouri*

Foreword

Echoes repeat the notes of a student's life. They resound the new progress, the new ideals, and the new decade of the Teachers College.

They whisper of new progress with the first "Old Missou" sung in Baldwin Auditorium--the first "Go, Bulldogs, Go" ringing to the rafters of Pershing Building--the newly created Background Room--the initial charter presented to PEM Club.

They boom of new ideals--the ideal student who searches for the truth and finds it--the ideal teacher who learns more in order to impart more--the ideal attitude that rewards must be really earned before they are granted.

They repeat the confidence of the new decade--a decade which promises extended research and knowledge, deeper insight and understanding, freedom to strive toward higher goals.

Echoes dwell within the depths of the individual. Every vibration of a progression or ideal is reflected as a distinct personality. The very soul is a chamber of echoes.

All are captured and reverberated in the caverns of this ECHO which speaks as the true representative of the student body in the new decade.

Training of future citizens is emphasized in Ophelia Parrish, the College laboratory of learning for student teachers.

This is...

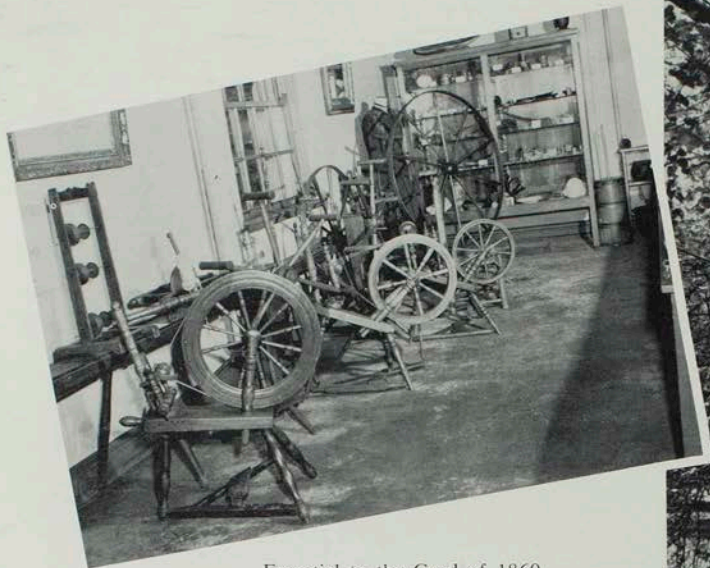

Symbolizing the permanence of education are the silent, sturdy structures of the campus. Each monument is the reflection of the dreams, discoveries, and dares of the students. Each cornerstone is in reality holding up not a mere mass of stick and stone but the very essence of learning. Every building from stately Kirk Memorial to the streamlined Bulldog Kennels, from the sunlit campus walk to the soaring, silhouetted smokestack, mirror the strong foundation that each one forms as a basis of his structure of knowledge.

Against a background of clouds at dusk, the smokestack stretches up symbolizing our pinnacles of success through the years.

The house of victory, Pershing Building, is the home of the Bulldog Spirit in sports and physical education.

Essential to the Coed of 1860, these spinning wheels now are a part of the Missouriiana Collection in the Violette Museum in Kirk Memorial.

Dances, parties, receptions and intramurals make Kirk Building and its Sociability Hall a center of campus activities.

a Teachers College. . .

Joseph Baldwin, our founder, looks on with approval at the gold and purple splendor of our landscaped campus in the fall.

Home of the sports' champions of the school, the Bulldog Kennels is the College athletic dorm.

Flower gardens lend a feeling of warmth to the front yard of the latest addition to the College dormitories, Brewer Hall.

Spring leaves cast shadows on the columned memorial to one of our distinguished past presidents, John R. Kirk.

A tribute to "Joe"-- each year a wreath is placed at our Founder's statue.

A gift to the President--this oil-- for his score of years spent in service to the College.

Dr. Ryle at his desk--a familiar sight to anyone stopping by his office.

The President's Message...

"The first decade of the second half of the twentieth century has closed . . .

"The Sixties, a decade of growth, will be the order of the day on this campus. We may expect to see the enrollment of the College reach 6,000 by the close of the decade. Its faculty will pass the 200 mark. Its curriculum will expand to meet the needs and demands of the changing times. Its graduate work will expand to meet the needs and demands of the public schools. Indeed, the decade of the sixties will be one of expansion.

"Our slogan during the next ten years will be--the sixties, a decade of expansion. Every faculty member and student, all former students, and the general public will have a vital part in helping to make this decade the greatest in the history of Missouri's oldest teachers college . . ."

President

During 1960, Dr. Walter H. Ryle completed his twenty-third year as president of the Teachers College. His interests this year have centered around academic achievement and tangible campus improvements. These noteworthy gains may be evidenced by the increasing of the minimum honor-point requirement for the professional school to 1.2, and a further advancement in the building program. This outstanding campus program typifies President Ryle, a man of vision.

State Commissioner of Education

The term regent has many meanings. To Mr. Webster, the definition is "a member of a board appointed to govern a university or other institution, usually educational." This definition fits the basic governing body of the Northeast Missouri State Teachers College, THE BOARD OF REGENTS. The Board is composed of seven members, who, although they follow different professions, have one common interest--the growth and development of The Teachers College. So efficient is the execution of the plans and business transactions of the College that very little recognition is given where much is due.

Mr. Hubert Wheeler, by virtue of his office, is an ex-officio member.

Members of the Board of Regents are: P. M. Marr, Milan, president; J. Andy Zenge, Jr., Canton, vice-president; Edward E. Swain, Sr., Kirksville, secretary; Henry M. Boucher, Memphis; W. A. Cable, Hannibal; Elmer F. Gieselmann, Macon.

Dean of Instruction

Dean of Instruction

This year marks the retirement of a man dedicated to education for almost 50 years--our College Dean, Dr. P. O. Selby. Dr. Selby has been affiliated with the College since 1912. He has worked as first secretary to the president and as registrar, and for 34 years was the head of the Business Department. In 1954, he became Dean of Instruction at KSTC.

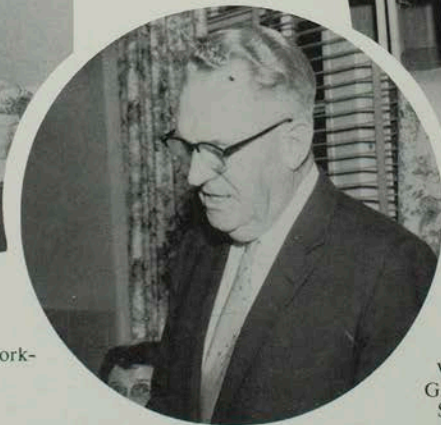

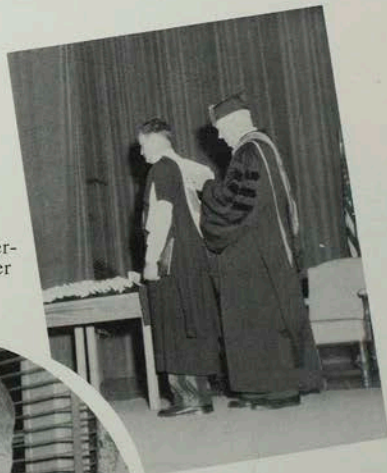

Dr. Selby received a B.S. in Education degree at this College, his master's degree at the University of Missouri, and his Ph.D. degree at the State University of Iowa.

Dr. Selby is a member of Kappa Delta Pi and Phi Delta Kappa and in 1923 was the founder of Pi Omega Pi, national honorary undergraduate fraternity in Business Education.

Happy Birthday, Dean.

Convocation exercises and another graduate.

The Dean speaks at a workshop conference.

Registrar

Interested in the academic achievement of each student in the Teachers College is the Registrar, Orville E. Bowers. Into his office flows all of the academic data which must be recorded, filed, and preserved to meet the future needs of each student enrolled in the College.

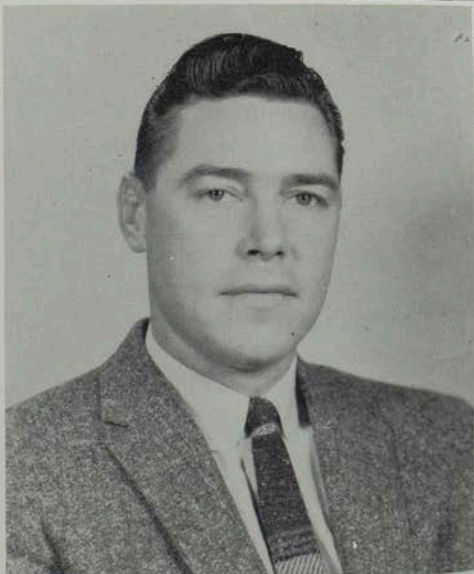

Furnishing of transcripts, certification of credits to the State Department of Education and to other colleges, evaluation of credits and the reporting of grades as well as checking of candidates for degrees are a few of the day-long activities carried on in the Registrar's office.

Admissions Office

Assisting prospective students from widely distributed areas before they arrive on the campus to enroll in the College is the chief concern of the Admissions Office and more particularly the work of Charles Elam, Director of Admissions.

Informed graduating high school seniors, increased enrollments, and a capable student body represent, in part, the tireless efforts of the Admissions Office.

Pay up, no arguments!

One of the busiest places on the campus is the Business Office. The duties of the Business Office consist of handling financial matters, collecting fees, purchasing all materials and keeping all records of the College, including those of student employment.

The financial problems pouring into this office are many. Through the division's careful engineering of College funds we see evidence of, and give due credit to, purchases designed to improve our school and to provide working facilities for the faculty and student body.

The Division of Extension Service

For many years the Teachers College has recognized its obligation to extend its services to all communities of Northeast Missouri by encouraging, promoting, and directing worth-while educational programs in the area. The Division of Extension Service directs its many services through the Placement Bureau, the Field Service, and the Correspondence and Extension Bureau.

The education of teachers away from the campus, the placement of competent graduates in desirable teaching positions, and maintaining a rental film library represent some of the services skillfully managed by this division.

The Division of Personnel Service

Accent on the individual is the motto of this division which is concerned with the personal well-being of each student enrolled in the College. If a student has a problem which cannot be solved by the individual himself, there are many directions in which to turn for aid within the personnel service division.

Each student has an advisor who can help with academic and personal difficulties. The Dean of Women plays a very important part in the personnel program as she has an even more direct contact with the student.

Other service personnel counselors and guidance directors, clinicians, College physician, and academic division heads all work in close cooperation with the Head of the Division of Student Personnel.

The Division of Maintenance Service

The expression, "Spring has sprung, gardening must be done," may well refer to one of the tasks performed by the Maintenance Service for the comfort and consideration of the campus personnel as a whole. A beautiful campus, attractive classrooms, efficient apparatus-- all of these and much more comprise the interests and command the services of the Maintenance division.

Custodians, engineers, firemen, carpenters, painters, electricians, night watchmen, and gardeners comprise the maintenance force in charge of the College grounds and buildings, non-instructional materials, store rooms and warehouses.

"Sixty"

Sixty, the College mascot, returned to the limelight winter quarter after almost two years of retirement from campus activity. His fashionable debut occurred at the assembly "Sixty Presents" during Good Grooming Week.

Presented to the College by the graduating class of 1960 when they were freshmen, the English Bulldog is the mascot of the KSTC athletic teams and was a chief bolster of Bulldog spirit at the home basketball games.

A chill in the air, a bonfire on the ground, 8 cheerleaders, many students, and more spirit-what is more typical of school and student life?

That old Bulldog Spirit hit even higher peaks this year as our teams scored high in athletic competition.

An estimated 800 persons in full dress attended the annual Christmas Dance to "whirl and swirl" to the music of the New Glenn Miller Dance Band, imported for the occasion. School dances are probably the most universally popular events of all the activities offered on campus. The three most widely acclaimed dances are the Homecoming, Christmas, and Echo.

"Old Missou"

Many times the halls of KSTC have rung with the refrain of "Old Missou." The school song, written in 1902 by Basil Brewer, has brought many a nostalgic thought to "old grads" who miss the good old days of carefree college life.

Student Mentors

Thirty sophomores and upperclassmen received the honor of being Student Mentors at the College. They returned to school a week early to help faculty advisers with the orientation of the 1960 freshman class.

Helping the adviser give the Freshman Examinations is one of the jobs of the Student Mentors, along with making out the fall quarter schedule, and acquainting the freshman with college life. The student adviser may also assist in teaching "Introduction to College" classes to the freshman, which meet once a week.

The Student Mentors help by serving at the President's Reception, indoctrinating the freshman, and trying to set good examples for them to follow in the traditions of the College.

Organizations

Blue Key compiles Student Directory

"Getting to know you" the hard way, Blue Key members set about collecting a complete list of students' names, addresses, telephone numbers, and hometowns. This information was compiled in the Student Directory which was made available to everyone enrolled in the Teachers College.

Confusion and uncertainty during the Homecoming parade was limited through the efforts of Key Club. Floats were lined up, bands were in assigned places, and the route was cleared because of the Club members who worked together to make the parade an efficient organized success.

Blue Key is the highest honorary fraternity (a national service organization) for men on campus. Membership is based on leadership, character, personality, and participation in student activities. Each member must be of junior or senior rank, and must be active in two other organizations, and have an honor point ratio of 1.8, which is higher than the average grades of all men on campus. Active membership is limited to 35 students.

Pledges

Latest Pledges of Blue Key are:

High standards needed for Kappa Delta Pi

In March several members attended the national convention in Chicago where they participated in workshops and buzz sessions. Kappa Delta Pi meets twice monthly where it carries out its purposes through intellectual and enlightening programs.

A membership committee selects members on the basis of character, scholarship, leadership, and service. To qualify for selection, a student must have an honor-point ratio of 2.0, must be at least a junior, and must have completed 5 hours of educational courses.

Is there a reward for time spent tracking down extra references, making "overtime" lab experiments, or studying until the wee hours? Kappa Delta Pi thinks so, and recognizes outstanding contributions to education. It encourages and rewards high professional, intellectual, and personal standards.

Each quarter the club holds an initiation banquet to welcome new members. A $25 scholastic award is given to the sophomore student showing the greatest amount of professional promise.

ROW ONE: Gene Sporer, Rita Sosa, Dana Wright, sec.; Pauline Knobbs, counselor; William Hoskins, vice-pres.; Anita Wolf, treas.; Barbara Landrum, historian; Jo D. Randall, Karen Graber. Cardinal Key and Alpha Phi Sigma promote high scholarship

Dainty French poodles with a Parisian air were sold by members of Cardinal Key. These peppy "Frenchies" were hand-made of vari-colored yarn and provided an atmosphere of the Eiffel Tower, smokey cafes, and Dior fashions for any room.

Club members sold tasteful English Wedgewood China plates decorated with paintings of Kirk Memorial. No student was seen in the fall without a purple and white Homecoming button, also sold by Cardinal Key.

Proceeds from this and other projects went toward the Nan E. Wade Scholarship granted by Cardinal Key. This scholarship, named for a past sponsor, was awarded to Janet Yates on the basis of student need and grade average.

The group, installed on campus as a national honorary service organization in 1932, meets twice monthly. Members are nominated by the chapter and are selected by a faculty committee. They are chosen on the basis of character, leadership, and participation in school activities. Cardinal Key is a sister to Blue Key, the men's national service organization.

A College "brain" is not a skinny, bespectacled student with buck teeth, long black socks, and a dusty copy of "The Rise and Fall of Lower Slobbovia" under his arm. Intelligent students of the Teachers College who make good grades are eager, inquisitive, and hard working. They are "up-to-date" mentally, physically, and socially. They are members of Alpha Phi Sigma honorary fraternity.

Alpha Phi Sigma is a National Scholastic Fraternity, whose principle aim is to promote high scholarship. In order to become a master member, a student must have an S average or better for three consecutive quarters. Freshmen who were valedictorians in high school are eligible to become associate members.

High scholarship is recognized and encouraged by the presentation of a key and certificates at the spring achievement assembly to outstanding students.

The club meets two times a month where educational programs are presented by students and faculty. During spring quarter the club added by-laws to its constitution which would make its standards higher and its purposes more meaningful.

Alpha Phi Sigma has the distinction of being founded on this campus, February 26, 1930, by Professor Byron Cosby, Business Administrator of the College. Now there are over 20 chapters at colleges throughout the country.

The business world demands efficiency and accuracy

"Calculate" and "tabulate" is familiar jargon to members of Pi Omega Pi. Eligibility for membership is based on maintaining an "S" average in business courses and majoring in business education.

Pi Omega Pi, a national honorary undergraduate fraternity, has the distinction of being founded on this campus by Dr. P. O. Selby in 1923. Since the founding of Alpha Chapter, 108 chapters with over 22,000 members have been organized in colleges and universities throughout the United States. Alpha chapter has initiated 702 members.

Quick wits necessary for Pi Kappa Delta

Pi Kappa Delta, which is open to students who have proved themselves proficient in the arts of debate, oratory, and various kinds of public speaking, were hosts to the Midwest Speech Tournament at Kirksville. This year marked the twentieth tournament sponsored by the group.

Pi Kappa Delta also sponsors the Regents' Debate which determines the most outstanding forensic team on campus. The 1960 winners of the Regents' award were Joe Hasenstab and Ted Mittler.

APO raises $254 for CARE

APO is a national service organization dedicated to high ideals in service, friendship, and leadership on campus. To be eligible for membership one must have been affiliated with the Boy Scouts.

Among the varied activities for community and college are sponsoring spring and fall camporees for Boy Scouts of the Thousand Hills district. Also each year the organization presents a valuable gift to the College.

Maddex, Brown, Hitt, Kelly, Sporer, Smith, and Miller vie for "coveted" Ugly Man title.

The Ugliest Man on Campus-- who is he? The Alpha Phi Omega members are the sleuths who always find him. This year "Tree" Miller was given the distinctive title-- all with much fun and seriousness in promoting a project to send a ton of food to a foreign country in the name of CARE. Organizations on campus sponsor candidates, the winner being named from ticket sales and money donations.

Art Club goes Beatnik for annual Ball

It was "A Night in Greenwich Village" and all the Beatniks flocked to the Beaux Arts Ball sponsored by the Honorary Art Club. Masked beatniks cut the rug, chewed onions, read verse, and competed for the "beatest" of the beat.

Art Club is open to art majors and minors with an "S" average in art courses. The club strives to encourage creativity through programs, films, exhibits, and discussions. Contrary to its interest in beauty, the group sponsored an Ugly Man candidate, Edwin Smith.

In December, the club met for a dinner meeting at the home of Mrs. Nita Patterson commemorating the founding date.

"That Olson is crazy, sending us out on a day like this!!"

Aeolian Club assists with spring contests

With the first notes of spring the campus was suddenly visited by high school music contestants. They were welcomed, directed, and organized by willing members of Aeolian Club. This year's Spring Music Festival was one of the most successful ones ever held due to the combined efforts of the club's members.

In January several members traveled to St. Louis for the Missouri Music Education Association Convention. They visited workshops and heard informative speeches.

Aeolian Club is open to anyone who is, or intends to be, a music major. It is a student chapter of the Music Educator's National Conference. Students are united in their common interests and are enlightened through programs which are conducted on a music education theme.

A C E gives toys to needy

The excitement of Christmas was reflected in the small eager faces of needy children who received gifts collected by the members of the Association for Childhood Education. This project was only one of several which was performed in order to carry out the club's purposes: to work for the education and well-being of children; to promote desirable conditions, programs, and practices in the schools; to encourage continual professional growth of teachers; to bring into active cooperation all groups concerned with children in the school, home, and community; and to study the needs of children and the ways the school program may be adjusted to fit their needs.

Connected with the National Association for Childhood Education, the members receive the publication entitled "Childhood Educator." This magazine is used as a guide for the student-faculty programs presented at the meetings held twice monthly. Anyone interested in childhood education or elementary education is eligible to join.

Second successful year for Oral Interps

Presentation of light programs helped make 1959-60 a second successful year for the Oral Interpreters.

Approximately forty students participated as performers, directors, and chairmen of the Reading Hours which have stressed both individual and group performances. Featured this year were ballads, Benet's "A Child Is Born," poetry of the world in the original and translation, "Night Thoughts," a reading hour by Dr. Worrell, and a senior program.

Chartered in November of 1958, the Oral Interpreters place the greatest emphasis on literature. However, the experience of directing and organizing the material will be an asset to a student as a teacher and community member.

Self-satisfaction is College Players' reward

As the cast for "Italian Straw Hat" took an encore and the audience went wild with approving applause, the members of College Players were removing dirt-stained socks and digging paint out from under their fingernails. No spotlight was turned on them and no gift of appreciation was given them, but without their valuable assistance the play would not have been such a success.

As one of their projects, the College Players worked behind the scenes for weeks before the performance of the play constructing scenery, stretching canvas, and spatter-painting. They produce and manage all dramatic productions and aid in the technical staging for musical productions.

College Players presented "Imagination," a dramatic seminar, conducted at the State University of Iowa in April. The College Players co-operated with the music department in providing the technical assistance necessary for the presentation of two operas.

Through these presentations, they seek to develop such theater skills as acting, directing, make-up, and crew work—skills which will be useful to them in future teaching.

Ag Club revives Barnwarming

"Swing 'em high, swing 'em low, and do-si-do at the Barnwarming" was the cheerful invitation to the annual dance sponsored by the Agriculture Club and Colhecon. Lively fiddles, sashshaying gals, and the familiar call of "Alemande left" added atmosphere to the "hoe-down" held in Kirk Auditorium. Smiling Sylvia Stout and beaming Earl VanEaton were crowned Barnwarming royalty to climax the event.

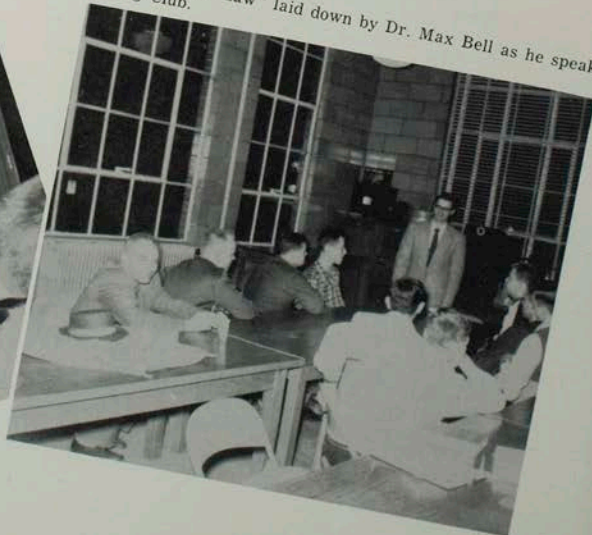

Besides taking an active part in Barnwarming, the Ag Club sponsors picnics and is represented in intramural sports and the Homecoming parade. The club aids in the conducting of FFA district contests for high school students of Northeast Missouri.

As a professional and social organization the club attempts to create interest in agriculture and the teaching of it as a profession.

Colhecon has festive dinners

Colhecon began the year with a get-acquainted tea at the home management house. At holiday time, the members will always remember the "flaming" ice cream served at the annual Christmas party. Climaxing an active year, the seniors were honored at "their" Banquet held this spring.

A social and professional organization, Colhecon is the club for home economics majors and others on campus interested in that field. It furthers its purpose in training young women as leaders in home and community life by sponsoring social activities throughout the school year.

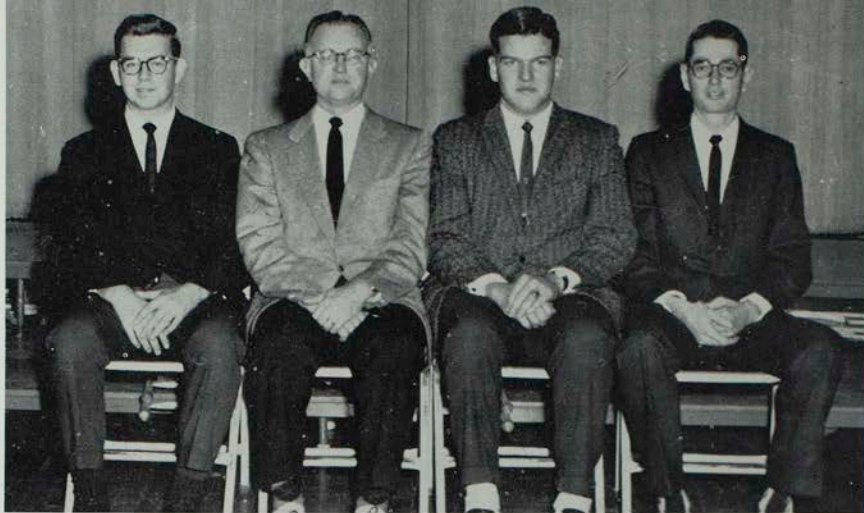

Campus Masons buy Bible

Realizing that business is best conducted after a hearty meal, the members of Square and Compass club have a steak feed once every quarter. Their "business" this year consisted of the purchasing of a Bible which was donated to the Pickler Library. They plan to sponsor a scholarship for a student entering college next year. Members, who must be Master Masons, sold Bulldog booster ribbons and Masonic emblems.

The bi-monthly meetings feature speeches by Master Masons, films, and slides. The organization was founded in 1946 and strives to give its members a study of the history and philosophy of Masonry.

Historical Society analyzes Castro

Social Science, from the first paintings on the walls of the caves of Paleolithic Man to the speeches of bearded Fidel Castro, was discussed, analyzed and absorbed by eager members of Historical Society.

Meeting once a month, the Historical Society tries to advance the study of social sciences and to provide instructive and informative programs for its members. The club is the oldest learned society on campus and is open to anyone interested in the advancement of the social sciences.

As the major social function of the year, the organization held a spring banquet featuring Professor Charles Mullett from the Department of History at the University of Missouri. He spoke on the topic "Doctors, Drugs, and Diseases."

IA Club again scores with float

A social and professional organization for industrial arts majors, the Industrial Arts Club is organized to encourage advancement in the field of industrial arts, to provide instructive and informative programs, and to encourage friendly social activities.

Membership is open to any industrial arts major having a minimum of ten hours in that field and a scholastic honor-point ratio of 1.2. The club's sponsor is Duane Cole, professor of Drafting.

Nosing out all competition in the mechanical division for Homecoming parade float entries has become an established tradition with the Industrial Arts Club. Continuing its winning streak the club was awarded first place again this year with a float entitled "Bulldogs, This is Your Life" which featured a "live" television show.

Kansas City was the site of the annual three-day tour. The club visited school shops, industrial plants, and other points of interest. A similar trip was planned for this spring.

March on K-Dettes!!

Strut, 1, 2, 3, and the K-Dettes were on the march adding their precise and smooth-moving drills to the other promotions of Bulldog Spirit.

The group has doubled since their formation last year and now consists of 32 girls. Carrying out the school colors in their outfits, they appeared at football and basketball games dressed in white short skirts and blouses accented with purple sashes.

Al Srnka first organized the entertainers and directed them with the assistance this year of Russell Ackly. These men also worked out the routines which ranged from a basketball theme to parade marching.

From eggplant to rice with International Club

"Whoops! I got China and Mexico mixed!" exclaimed an eager eater at the International Christmas banquet, when the ingredients on his plate were jostled. The fare, served buffet style, ranged from fried eggplant to chow mein with noodles, and from rice and peas to kick-apoo-joy juice. Twenty-two countries were represented on the menu. Members of the International Club and guests were present.

Noteworthy among the club's accomplishments was its Homecoming float which won first place in the surprise division. Probably the biggest "surprise" element of the float was English Colin Skinner wrapped in a Mexican serape, strumming a guitar, and shouting "Ole" to giggling bystanders.

Promoting good will and better understanding among nations are the basic aims of International Club. Its members, both foreign students and United States citizens, enjoy sharing ideas and cultures from around the world.

Education--SNEA'S Watchword

As the gavel banged and nominations for officers were opened, the members of the local SNEA were out in front campaigning. The election for state officers of the Student National Education Association was held at a convention in St. Louis in November. A convention was also held on a district level here in Kirksville in November.

Because the club is a part of the National Education Association, the members of the organization receive the "NEA Journal". The programs presented provide members with a preview of the teaching profession--its problems, challenges, and rewards. The club prepares programs for local civic groups and high school Future Teachers Associations.

The members strive to develop professional competence and to gain an understanding of the history, ethics, and program of the organized teaching profession. Anyone interested in the teaching program is eligible to join the Student National Education Association and to participate in cooperative work on the problems of the profession and the community.

Pre-Os Club tours KCOS

Bodies in a freezer!! Call Alfred Hitchcock! But there is no mystery involved as pre-os students view these "pickled people" during a tour of KCOS. This is just another way of acquainting themselves with the different aspects of the medical field.

They have visited the pathology lab where they viewed parts of bodies affected by cancer. The members have also watched a demonstration of the dissection of a cadaver, the running of blood tests and cardiograms, and the administering of anesthesia in surgery—all a part of their preparedness program.

As a variation in their activities, pre-osteopathic members engage lecturers from the staff or student body of KCOS to help them increase their knowledge of osteopathy. Then as a contrast, since all work and no play makes Jack a dull doc, picnics are always on their yearly agenda.

Este es el Club Español

Speaking French and Spanish, learning about other countries, and practicing foreign customs are all a part of Romance Language Club. Members of the club are students who have taken at least one quarter of a romance language.

The club fosters new knowledge of our foreign neighbors by encouraging foreign students to speak of their countries, by presenting informative programs, and by holding teas at which only foreign languages may be spoken.

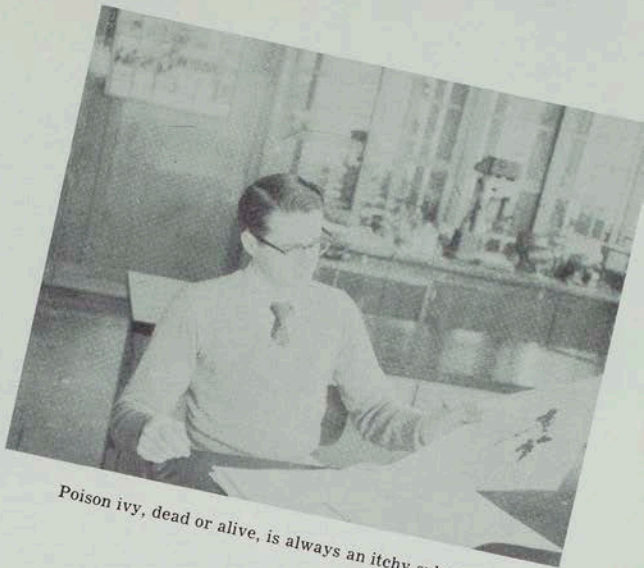

The highlights of the year were the annual Romance Language Club banquet and the Christmas party featuring a Spanish reading and French songs.

Sigma Zeta boasts high honor-point ratio

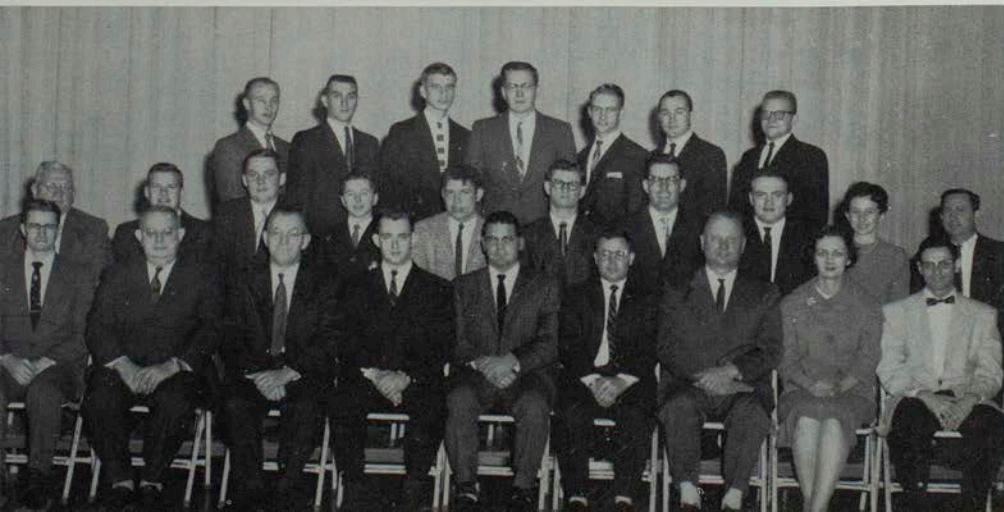

With an average honor-point ratio of 2.3, Sigma Zeta is the national honorary science society of the campus. To be eligible for membership, a student must be majoring in the natural sciences or mathematics and must maintain a high degree of scholarship in these fields.

Encouraging advancement in the field of science, promoting and recognizing scholastic achievement, and fostering friendly social activities are the aims of the organization.

Each month the group presents a film or sponsors a lecture by a member of the science faculty. Sigma Zeta also participates in the Science Fair which is held every year for the advancement of science and mathematics.

W.A.A. "on the ball"

No ping pong balls in the eye for W.A.A. members! They are always "on the ball" sponsoring intramural tournaments in archery, basketball, softball, table tennis, and volleyball. Just as the Women's Athletic Association is open to all interested college women, all Teachers College women may participate in these tournaments.

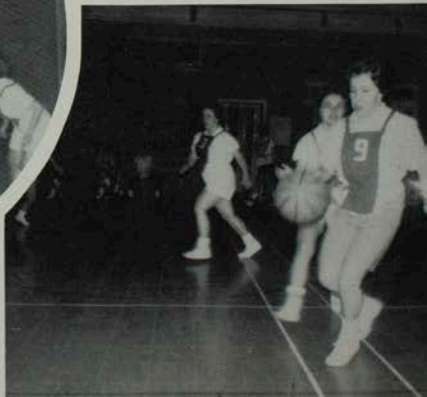

There's nothing like a Volleyball Sports Day for W.A.A. as the members plan and sponsor this annual event. Eight Missouri and Iowa schools were represented. Interested Bulldog boosters, W.A.A. also sold purple and white shakers for the Homecoming pep rally.

In the spring, awards were presented and new officers were installed at a traditional banquet.

Overjoyed with their new charter are the officers (also new) of PEM Club.

"Freshest" Charter belongs to PEM Club

With the big frame-up, the PEM Club became the newest chartered organization on campus. The girls were overjoyed with their new charter, regally framed in gold, which they received last winter.

As the Physical Education Major's organization, PEM Club strives to promote professional growth among the women students, to develop group solidarity, and to further cooperation between physical education and recreation among students, faculty and alumnae.

Phi Delta Kappa Politics excite newly chartered Young Democrats

Newly installed on this campus, Phi Delta Kappa is an international professional fraternity for men in education. The Teachers College Chapter, Epsilon Gamma, takes as members graduate students in education, faculty members, and men who have received a masters degree in education during the last three years.

President Walter H. Ryle, Dean P. O. Selby, and Mr. Felix Rothschild were three of the charter members of a field chapter started in 1929.

An installation and initiation program held in the afternoon and evening of November included a banquet and the signing of the charter.

The only chartered political organization on campus for the advancement of a national party is the Young Democrats Club. This group, meeting twice each month, invites prominent party leaders and faculty members to speak on such topics as current national affairs and new political ideas.

Within the club is opportunity for an individual to acquaint himself with the political world, and to participate in local, state, and national elections. Though many of the electors in the group are too young to make their vote count in the regular elections, anticipation and enthusiasm sparks the interests of these future party supporters.

Cold "Independence Day" Morning devotions for Gamma Delta sponsored by DSF

Cold winds and snowy weather did not scare the eager members of Gamma Delta. To counteract the uninvited visit of Old Man Winter, the members planned a "Fourth of July in January" complete with an outside barbecue, fireworks, and patriotic speeches.

During the Christmas holidays the group visited and sang carols to members of the Lutheran church. During the Lenten season, the students were hosts at socials for the congregation following special services. Gamma Delta enjoyed an anniversary banquet and an annual spring banquet.

Service and knowledge are the key words of Gamma Delta, the international association of Lutheran college students. The organization tries to promote Christian knowledge through Bible study and to serve its fellowmen in a Christian atmosphere.

Meeting twice a month, the group discusses topics which will help them understand their church and lead a Christian life at college. Vesper services, recreation, and refreshments also have a part in their regular meetings.

This year DSF sponsored morning devotions at the College, held coffee hours in the Church on Sunday mornings, and met in special fellowship meetings on Thursday evenings. Working toward a merger with the United Presbyterian Youth, they have held two joint meetings with them.

Fun, food, and fellowship with a spiritual emphasis aid the Disciple's Student Fellowship of the Christian Church in fulfilling the threefold aim of their organization. These students wish to find friends with a common interest, join others in the worship of God, and give Christ His place in their daily lives.

As a highlight of the year, the group entertained the National DSF president, Lois Motherhead, during fall quarter.

BSU Student Center now two years old

Baptist Student Union activities began eleven hundred miles from the Teachers College where plans for the year were made at Glorieta, New Mexico, last August at the student assembly.

Always active, the BSU initiated the beginning of school with hamburger fries, ice cream freezes, watermelon feasts, taffy pulls, and hayrides. Spring quarter was the scene of the annual sweetheart and spring formal banquets.

A birthday party complete with cake and a gift was celebrated in honor of the second anniversary of the BSU center. A framed water color of the building by Jerry Miller was hung in the two-year old student center. The center is open from 8 a.m. until 10:30 p.m. and is available for spiritual, educational, recreational, and social functions.

The BSU was host to the state convention in November, and missionary Harold Renfrow from Sao Paulo, Brazil. On campus the group sponsors devotions at noon every day in Kirk Memorial, Tuesday night vesper services, and Friday morning prayer-breakfasts.

The Baptist Student Union strives to provide a church related program for Baptist collegiate members.

Many, many, many hours of hard work went into establishing the Student Center, now two years old.

Crowned queen of Y.W.A. --- Miss Patsy Short.

Newmanites "work" overtime during summer planning session.

First prize awarded Newman Club float

Long hours of hard work, "talent" of sorts, inspiration, and a bit of luck were the ingredients of Newman Club's float, "S.S. Bulldog", which was awarded first prize in the Beauty Division at Homecoming. The Newmanites' egos were boosted just a little more because this was the second straight year for them to receive this honor.

On the more serious side, the Newman Club provided a balanced program of religious, intellectual and social activities in order that it might enrich the spiritual and temporal lives of its members.

The campus chapter of the National Club holds a business, a social, and a Patrician meeting each month, the latter being dedicated to discussions of problems relating to religious life of the college student.

Many activities of purely social nature such as picnics, dances, chili suppers, a formal banquet, in addition to the spiritual events of fall and spring retreats to Conception Abbey, attending Church and Communion as a group, and reciting the Rosary during Advent in Kirk Memorial, create an intimate feeling of kinship within the group and a closeness to God.

UPY gets student center

"All this and Heaven, too!" was the comment made by the members of the United Presbyterian Youth groups when they viewed their new student center. The rambling old house located on Jefferson and High streets boasts a recreation room, kitchen and study rooms. Cutting wood is no chore for students who like the inviting warmth of the fireplace. This Christmas, festive decorations lent holiday cheer to the student center.

Fun, inspiration, and fellowship are the chief elements of the UPY. Each Thursday evening members meet for supper, recreation, worship service, and a program on faith, outreach, or witness topics.

Social activities centered around the student center which was the scene of a combined hayride-Halloween party and a Christmas party. This year the

Togetherhness is byword of Wesley

Providing spiritual guidance, and religious and social activity for its members, Wesley Foundation tries to promote high character while generating an atmosphere of congenial attitudes and mutual understanding.

Exemplifying this feeling were Judy and Gary Phillips, the Methodist group's new directors, who greeted each member at the beginning of the fall quarter.

A feeling of pride in the organization was the key to Wesley's float which was awarded first prize in "spirit" of Homecoming.

Hayrides, a Christmas Party, supper meetings, participation in the Ugly Man Contest and Fun Festival, a retreat at the Lake of the Ozarks--these and many other activities rounded out the calendar for Wesley Foundation, a progressive religious organization.

Gary and Judy Phillips help Wesley Foundation realize their aims.

Worship services are a vital part in the Wesley program.

Madrigals and Chorus represent musical excellence

The NEMO Chamber Singers--a vibrant blend of beautiful voices--represents a choice selection of artists from the main NEMO group.

The day most noteworthy of their many excellent performances was January 7. This date found the Singers in St. Louis at the MMEC convention. Their selections were met with the instant approval of the audience, which was filled with leading music educators from colleges throughout the state.

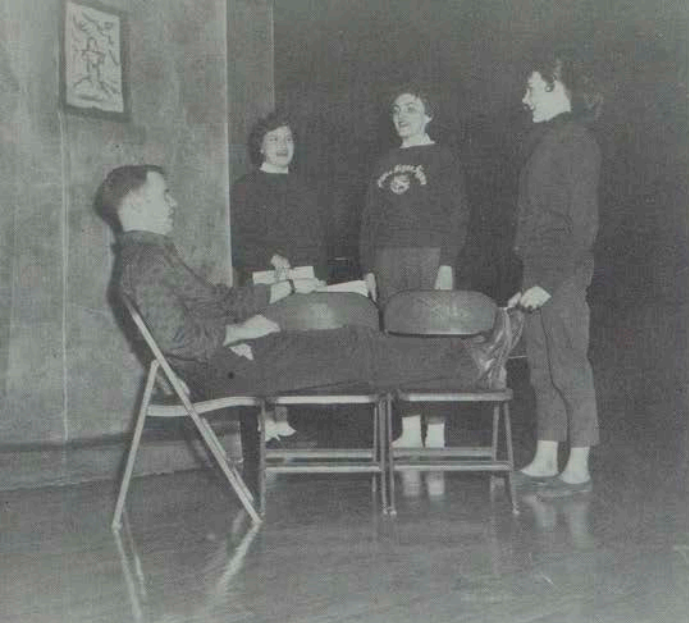

Dr. Stephen Hobson, director of the group, changed the name of the choir from "Madrigal Singers" to "Chamber NEMOs" so a more universal selection of numbers could be presented.

Luck was never such a lady as at the presentation of light opera selections given in assembly by the College Chorus. The vocalists presented selections from "Guys and Dolls", "My Fair Lady", "South Pacific", and "The King and I".

Often the group worked in harmony with soloists who were featured in several programs. Chorus symbolizes many hours of work for little credit. However, students participating are rewarded with self-satisfaction and pleasure in presenting a variety of selections ranging from Broadway shows to semi-classical compositions.

Spring brings "Highbrow" Operas

Seven songsters warbled to merry music as they wove a tale of fun and fantasy in "The Old Maid and the Thief" by Gian-Carlo Menotti and "La Serva Padrona" by Giovanni B. Pergolesi. The two comical chamber operas under the direction of Dr. Stephen Hobson and Mr. James Severns were presented on April 12th and 13th to visiting high school seniors and the College student body.

Enthusiastically received, the cast, supported by the orchestra, proved that such presentations are enjoyed by everyone. It was the first operatic program, as such, produced through the combined efforts of the music and dramatics departments, and is only a springboard for future spectaculars for the Teachers College.

41 "hand picked" for NEMOs

Classical numbers, popular tunes, or spirituals--all are handled with equal proficiency by the NEMO Singers. A select musical group, NEMOs are chosen by Dr. Stephen Hobson. Each year, NEMOs join the Concert Band in their tour of Northern Missouri, Southern Iowa, Western Illinois, and the St. Louis area presenting approximately 15 programs.

Orchestra combines new blazers and blazing concerts

The audience hushed as Director Karl Webb stepped onto the podium and raised his baton. The sweet strains of the Orchestra swelled into "The Gypsy Baron Overture" by Strauss at the annual spring concert, May 1.

Also on the program were two movements of the "New World Symphony" by Dvorak, "Suite for Orchestra" by Bartok, "Suite on Fiddler's Tunes" by McKay, and "Slavonic Rhapsody No. 2" by Friedemann.

Not only did the Orchestra work together but it looked like a team in new white blazers and dark skirts or slacks. This is the first year the orchestra has been uniformed.

Robert Lang, trumpeter, was the featured soloist at the fall concert presented Dec. 13. On the program was "The Faithful Shepherd" by Handel, "Symphony No. 2 in C Major" by Schubert, and "Concerto in E Flat for Trumpet" by Haydn.

College bands provide campus color

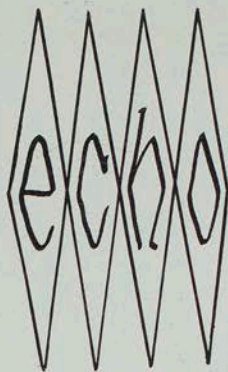

Two of the most colorful organizations on campus are the Varsity and Concert Bands. Since their founding in 1916, these groups have grown until they are now considered top musical organizations.

With gleaming brass instruments and fluttering white tassels, the 80 members of the Varsity Band marched onto the field as part of the Homecoming activities. For all home football games the band was present to entertain with coordinated routines. Each ball was kicked off to the accompaniment of a drum roll.

During the basketball season, the Varsity Band was divided into three smaller pep bands each of which had a part in boosting the spirit and morale of the champion Bulldogs at the home games. Presenting an assembly program and playing for spring convocation comprised the final performances of this talented group.

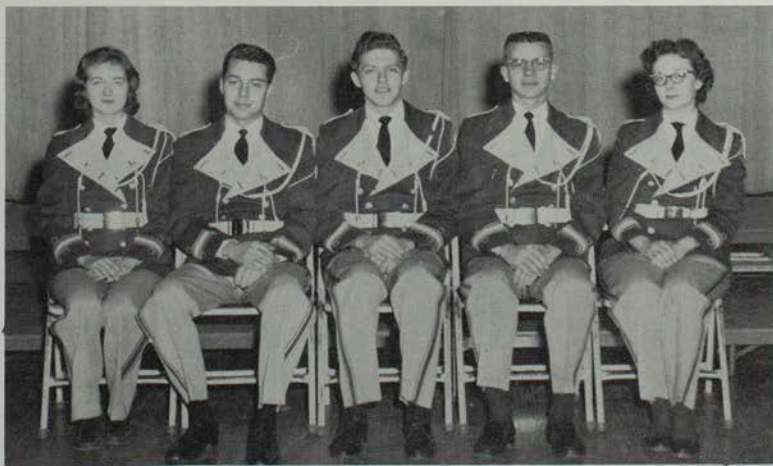

The Concert Band entertained approximately ten thousand high school pupils and townspeople with 15 concerts during a five day tour throughout Northeast Missouri and surrounding territory. The 60 membered Concert Band also gave a home concert to climax the season.

The success of these campus organizations--their wide acceptance and their educational assets--is due to the superb leadership and guidance of Dr. Paul Strub, director of the KSTC bands. Through his able leadership, the assistance of Mr. Fred Young, woodwind instructor, and the support of Mr. Karl E. Webb, Head of the Division of Fine Arts, and Dr. Walter H. Ryle, President of the College, the Varsity and Concert Bands have become fine representatives of a progressive educational institution.

Alpha Phi Gamma

The point and pica counters or the Index editorial Staff.

The nose-for-news crowd

Dateline to deadline, the Index staff never fails to write the news. Wednesday morning despite rain, snow, sleet, or hail the College newspaper comes out.

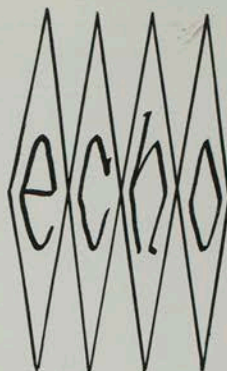

The fiftieth anniversary of the Index was celebrated this summer with a banquet in Blanton dining room. In honor of the anniversary a banquet edition of the Index was "run off," complete with pictures taken at the banquet. The presses rolled fast that night to bring the issue to the banquet before its adjournment.

The weekly newspaper is the recorder of student and administration activities, a barometer of opinion, and the revealer of current happenings. The Index's objective is to inform, entertain and record.

Putting out the Index is one of the functions of Alpha Phi Gamma, the journalistic fraternity. For one week of every year the newspaper is in the experienced hands of the club members. They write and edit all copy and plan for the pictures and the layout.

This is their line, for they are all past members of the working staff as this is one of the requirements for membership. An S average in all journalism classes, a 1.2 overall average and either seven hours of journalism or having held an editorial position are all requirements for Alpha Phi Gamma membership.

Jack Twitchell, business manager, and Francis Sporer, editor, talk over a pressing matter, namely the Echo.

Organized chaos becomes 1960 Echo

ECHO, Echo, echo rang continually through the minds of the yearbook staff as captions were written, names were checked, and handwriting was deciphered. A member of the Echo staff had not only to think, see, and hear all (concerned with the Echo, that is), but he had to know how to change typewriter ribbons, climb through scaffolding in Laughlin Building, and yank information out of reluctant fraternity members.

The Echo staff worked throughout the winter quarter and most of the fall quarter to bring to the student body a living memory. "Little Sir Echo" represented a real personality in the making to the staff. Sometimes it growled when proof-read sloppily at 4 a.m. Occasionally, it purred when room was made for an "especially unusual" shot. It cheered in outright glee when the staff emerged from the "steam room" bearily clutching the copy ready to be OKed.

"Little Sir Echo" was not always a slave driver. Once the staff jumped its traces and galloped to the home of Francis Sporer, Echo editor, for pizza, easy hi-fi listening, and a few after dinner exercises. Miss Babbitt, sponsor, welcomed "Echoers" to her home for a planning party. The fun of attending the band concert in jeans, drinking frozen pepsis, and smoking "skinny" cigars will always remain in the minds of the staff.

Able "assistance," Marthlu Bledsoe, Assistant Editor, and Jerry Noble, Assistant Business Manager.

The Echo office--a mess--but this is before the going got rough!

The book would never have been created without the aid and consultation of Miss Helen Babbitt, Mrs. Eloise Hill, and Mr. Russell Harrison, faculty sponsors. Gratitude is extended to Ken Serfass, Dale Woodward, and Glenn Rider, photographers. The work of Alexander Studio and Anderson's is equally appreciated.

Developing ulcers and gray hairs for "the cause" were editor, Francis Sporer; assistant editor, Marthlu Bledsoe; business manager, Jack Twitchell; and assistant business manager, Jerry Noble. Slave laborers included sports editor, Denny Wigal; copy writers (and rewriters) Sheila Shinn and Becky Bigsby; faculty editor, Sherry Rankin; artist and typist Janet Davidson.

Each little suggestion meant a lot--so thanks to Brandt Crocker, Joan Burt, Linda Read, Dale Beck, Lissa Moss, and all other interested members of the student body and faculty. The staff's "child" grew to become a full-fledged Echo bringing you happy reflections of the gay, exciting school year.

Active year for Student Council

Energetic and vital to the spirit of student participation, the elective body of the Student Council represents the student's desire to have a voice during his college life.

Throughout the year it is the Council's responsibility to plan and organize all student activities. Beginning with freshman orientation and the "Get Acquainted Dance," continuing through Parents' Day, and the Echo dance, the Student Council tries to obtain the maximum in student participation. The Council sponsors buses to out of town sports events; the Homecoming parade and dance; and the Christmas dance, featuring this year the Glenn Miller Band. It arranges for Twirp Week and the Fun Festival and encourages contributions to the United Fund Drive and the Red Cross Bloodmobile.

Assisting the Student Council, the Student Social Committee is made up of volunteers working behind the scenes and planning all decorations for dances, the faculty Christmas tea, and other Council sponsored events.

Panhellenic governs sorority rush

Mrs. Ruth Beal, Dean of Women, reviews some ideas of the Panhellenic Council.

Unifying the four social sororities on campus, the local chapter of National Panhellenic Council not only governs all sorority activities on campus but also assists in several all-college events.

Sponsorship of a scholarship award for a foreign girl each year gives the council an international flavor. They obtain the money for this project from the sale of student theater tickets and college stamps.

They cooperate with Interfraternity Council in programming Greek Week. The Council supervises the rush activities, and prepares a rush handbook for the benefit of girls unfamiliar with the Greek system. At the beginning of rush week, Panhellenic gives a reception for all college women interested in sorority activities. The Panhellenic Banquet is the spring highlight as the sorority with the highest honor-point ratio receives the Scholarship Cup Award.

The Council also helps with the Freshman Orientation Program and the registration of guests for Parents' Day and Senior Day. They serve at the Garden Party and the President's Reception and provide a checkroom at the Homecoming, Christmas, and Echo dances.

By entering into both sorority and non-sorority activities, Panhellenic, led by its president, Nancy Casner, promotes better cooperation between students and illustrates the interest of the Greek organizations in campus activities.

Possessor of the olive branch for the Greek men of the campus, the Interfraternity Council settles any disagreements that might arise between the fraternities and sets the dates for their rush events.

Composed of the president, vice-president and a member-at-large from each of the three social fraternities, the council sponsors a banquet each spring, at which the fraternity with the highest honor-point average for the year is awarded the coveted President's Scholarship Cup.

During Greek Week in the fall, the council in cooperation with Panhellenic council planned and organized an assembly in which each fraternity and sorority participated. Their songs, skits, and dance routines helped promote interest in the activities of the Greek organizations.

Guided by their president, Ken Serfass, these men, with a common spirit of cooperation and a firm belief in the merit of the fraternity system, add much to Greek life on the campus.

Dr. Gilbert Kohlenberg, Head of the Division of Social Science is advisor-arbitrator for the Interfraternity Council.

Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority celebrated its 61st anniversary this fall, with a banquet for the alumnae and actives. From 1898 until 1914, the sorority existed on campus as Kappa Theta Psi and in 1914 affiliated with the national organization of Alpha Sigma Alpha as Alpha Beta Chapter.

February marked a record for the Alphas—all the queens on campus for a calendar year. In February, 1959, Angie Wilson reigned as Carnival Queen; in May, Sue Mayes was crowned 1959 Echo Queen; in October, Sylvia Stout was selected by the student body to reign as Homecoming Queen; and again in January, 1960, Sylvia was chosen as Barnwarming Queen.

Four of the six cheerleaders are Alphas—Sylvia Stout, captain; Mary Ellen Graves, Jeannie Jones, and Sharon Simmons. Suzanne Green served as president of the K-Dettes, a drill team organized by the Alphas in 1958.

We filled our pledge quota of 21 girls after two successful fall rush parties, "An Evening in Alpha-Traz" and "A Day at the Bay with ASA."

The philanthropic project this year was working with the children at the State School for the Mentally Retarded. Halloween, Thanksgiving, and Christmas parties were given to the children, in addition to individual teaching assistance.

Charlene Cox, Paula Hoerrmann, Sharon McCullough, and Sylvia Stout were selected to Who's Who. Carolyn Mulford served as editor of the Index fall quarter. Marilyn Lawson was elected president of the newly formed P.E.M. Club for physical education majors and minors.

Hearts were light when the 1958-59 President's Scholarship Cup was added to the precious possessions of Delta Sigma Chapter of Delta Zeta Sorority.

Veiled faces were greeted by the Great Genies in the "Land of Arabia" introducing Delta Zeta's first rush party. Rushes were entertained by Arabian dancers trying to keep their costumes intact. "Grecian Gardens" with columns, vines and laurel wreaths was the setting for the second rush activity. After these two successful rush events, 21 girls pledged with 4 more joining later in open rush.

The Delts were kept busy during the year preparing and selling birthday calendars and purple and white KSTC monogrammed pillows, both of which were helpful in fattening the treasury.

For every honor there's a Delta. Those honored this year in Who's Who were Donna Dawkins, Karen McAllister, Doris Nelson, Jane Dillinger, and Barbara Landrum, Delta president.

"Hunky Dorie" Roberts was chosen as Homecoming Queen attendant while Jane Dillinger was a senior class officer. Peppy Barb Anderson helped lead the cheering section and in the beauty department Janet Robertson and Karen Alberti were selected as Freshmen and Junior class queens for the Echo.

New tailor-made dark green skirts and sweaters distinguish Delta Zeta on the campus. Proudly, they represent a chapter of the largest sorority in the National Panhellenic Conference.

Purple, White! Dynamite! Tri Sigmas sport new outfits of sorority (and school) colors. Sigmas are justly proud of their crested white blazers and dyed-to-match dark purple skirts and sweaters. Sporting bright purple crew hats, their "little sisters" also added to the new look.

The regular term started early for three Sigmas who returned to assist with the freshman orientation program. The rush parties, "Sigma in Wonderland" and "Sigmas in the South Seas," resulted in sixteen girls pledging. Later in the season, the pledges presented the actives with a colorful and "different" pledge party entitled "I Dreamed I Was a Sigma . . ."

Proving their interest in campus activities, the Tris won many honors this year. Pat Trenkle and Sandra Giachino were chosen as candidates for Echo Queen. Marthlu Bledsoe was elected editor of the Index and assistant editor of the Echo.

Tri Sigmas boosted school spirit by having Kitty Lundhoy as a cheerleader, and Nina Fitzgerald as president of the new Pep Club. Nancy Casner served as president of Cardinal Key, and Panhellenic Council as well as of Sigma Sigma Sigma. This year six Mu chapter Sigmas were selected to Who's Who.

In memory of a deceased sister, the chapter raised over $130 for the Sheryl Fullerton Grim Memorial Scholarship.

Pi Kapps merge: become Sigma Kappa

A new name, a new organization, a new outlook--this was the big story of the year for Sigma Kappa. With the merging of Pi Kappa Sigma and Sigma Kappa sororities on a national level, Delta Theta was recognized in a formal installation ceremony on the campus as one of the sorority's 97 college chapters.

Always striving for fresh ideas and a revitalization of their program, officers of Sigma Kappa gave special emphasis this year to their training. Jane Thomas and Nadine Newell attended an officers' training school at Ames, Iowa, where the sorority's National Vice-President and Traveling Secretary met individually with Delta Theta officers to help them achieve a rewarding first year.

In the midst of reorganization came the inevitable rush week and Sigma Kappa began planning and preparing for their two rush functions--a conventional tea and an informal party, "Sigma Kappa Ball". Hard work brought fulfillment as eight girls pledged. They were joined by eight more new sisters in open rush.

Snowflakes carried winter music and so did Sigma Kaps as they entered into the Christmas spirit by caroling at Kirksville rest homes and the three fraternity houses. Holidays mean parties and Sigma Kappa took advantage of the Yuletide by giving themselves some seasonal treats, a dinner at Elaines and a party with their brother fraternity, the AKLs.

Snow finally melted and the Sigma Kappas welcomed the new season with their traditional springtime formal and an initiation banquet for new members.

A special spring posy goes to sorority member Jane Thomas who was selected as a candidate for Who's Who.

AKLs only fraternity founded on west coast

Special "supplies" from "Playboy Magazine" decorated the scene for Alpha Kappa Lambda's first rush party, and "No-Doze" party favors were distributed "to make the party last longer." The Hans Waecker Combo played for the annual "University Rush Dance"—so called because 80% of AKL's chapters are found on university campuses. Fifteen men pledged the fraternity after the parties.

Demonstrating academic achievement Alpha Kappa Lambda fraternity has won the President's Scholarship Cup for six consecutive years. Two beautiful cups permanently grace the mantel of the AKL house. Outstanding members were: for highest scholarship, Neil Curtis; best active member, Don Kelly; and most loyal fraternity member, Lou Stolte. President Neil Curtis was also represented in Who's Who.

The AKLs really "keep the joint jumpin'" with their many campus activities. Two all school dances complete with refreshments, Walt Disney movies, and hi-fi music have been sponsored. A spring formal, a Homecoming float, and a local service project in cooperation with the Salvation Army were also on the agenda.

Founded at the University of California in 1914, Alpha Kappa Lambda has the distinction of being the only fraternity founded on the west coast. Xi chapter was organized on this campus in 1953. Presently there are 24 active and affiliate chapters.

With the dawn of 1960 came the "golden year" of Phi Sigma Epsilon. Gamma chapter celebrated the 50th anniversary of Phi Sigma Epsilon by migrating to 503 South Davis to take up occupancy in its new house.

The Phi Sigs began the school year in their new home with an open house which was well attended by many curious individuals. Homecoming was a complete success as the weary-eyed Phi Sigs boosted a huge Bulldog, wire, and napkin conglomeraiton to a second prize in the spirit division.

The hairy-chested men of Gamma continued their dominance of intramural competition by capturing second place in fleetball, while the Old Masters tore up the fraternity league in basketball and emerged the eventual victor.

As autumn leaves turned to winter snow, Gamma turned to rushing. Eager rushees observed the ways of fraternity men at the annual rush smoker and danced and caroused in the "cafes of Paris" at the Apache Dance.

February found Gamma chapter well represented at the Phi Sigma Epsilon Regional Conclave at the University of Illinois.

Individuals who have brought honor to the fraternity are Gordon Benson and Wayne O'Neal who were selected for Who's Who, Denny Wigal, Sports Editor of the Echo, and Ray Eickmeyer, co-captain of the football team. Dr. John Fox, alumnus, assumed duties this year as chapter supervisor.

It's all or nothing with the Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity. When the members have a smoker, it really smokes. After the "Blue Room" smoker, held at the Kirksville Country Club, the building burned due to faulty wiring. To the Taus it was a four alarm catastrophe as their card tables, trophies, and scrapbook, dating back to 1936, were reduced to ashes.

The bearded boys of the Old West again returned for the annual Forty-Niner Dance. The Dick Eitel Combo played for the dance nestled in a western setting complete with baled hay chairs. Larry Magee was recognized as the "champion" beard grower.

Thirty-four men pledged Sigma Tau Gamma after the rush events. The pledge class sponsored a pancake day, the proceeds of which went toward the Thomas Angus Memorial Scholarship, presented annually by the fraternity to a graduate student in Social Science. Parents of the pledges were invited to attend the First Annual Initiation Banquet and to witness final rites of initiation of the new men.

Richard Maltby and his orchestra was sponsored by Sigma Tau Gamma for two concerts in March. Other projects included a "Wreck a Car the Safe Way" event in which anyone could inflict his personal complaints on a car with a sledge hammer. Sig Taus and pledges were present to donate more blood than any other organization when the Bloodmobile came to Kirksville.

Each member is a winner in his own way but several Sig Taus really scored. Class Echo kings were Larry Beaver, Charles Serfass, Dennison Crist, and Jim Lenzini. Representing their classes as presidents were Fred Clarke, senior; Gerry Campbell, junior; and Jan McDonald, sophomore.

Wade begins eighth year at Helm

Having weathered the storms of eight consecutive football seasons at the College, head football coach Maurice Wade has established himself as a success in a profession that demands positive results. As proof of the tenacious Redhead's coaching prowess, his Bulldog teams have compiled an impressive 49-24-2 record. During these eight years Wade has directed his teams to two conference championships and a share in two others.

The man behind the vicious Bulldog lines, developed in the past six years, is Kenneth Gardner, line coach. "Kenny," who is responsible for much of the Bulldog glory, has established himself as a popular and capable guide for the Bulldogs.

Bulldogs foil non-conference foes

KIRKSVILLE 18 - ST. JOSEPH'S 16. Embarking on a tough schedule with only a handful of lettermen, the Bulldogs left St. Joseph's College of Rensselaer, Indiana, mired deep in Stokes Stadium mud, indicating a fine season in store for Kirksville. Dale "Paley" Mills, Kirksville's great junior halfback, picked up where he left off last season by dashing to touchdowns of 69, 34, and 5 yards. As the final gun sounded, the Bulldogs were on top of the seesaw battle, 18-16.

KIRKSVILLE 6 - WASHBURN UNIVERSITY 0. Journeying to Topeka, Kansas, to encounter the Washburn U. Ichabods, the Bulldogs threatened to run away with the game as they sprang Dale Mills loose on a 90 yard punt scoring sprint in the first quarter. From that point neither team could put together a scoring drive and the game turned into a defensive battle.

KIRKSVILLE 12 - ST. AMBROSE 6. Migrating next to Davenport, Iowa, the Kirksville Bulldogs took the sting out of the St. Ambrose Bees to the tune of 12-6. Unable to cross the touchdown stripe in the first half, the Bulldogs behind the devastating passing of quarterback Don Mason, scored twice in the final two quarters. Mason hit Milt McPike in the third period for a 30 yard T.D. and in the fourth period diminutive Red O'Neal gathered in another Mason pass and scooted 43 yards for six big counters.

KIRKSVILLE 33 - SPRINGFIELD 20. In a repeat performance of the 1958 Bear-Bulldog clash, Dale Mills again ripped through Springfield defenses, rushing for 262 yards. Included were touchdown jaunts of 35, 28, and 80 yards. Springfield retaliated with speedster Sam Claxton, but couldn't contain Mills and Co. and ended on the short end of a 33 to 20 score as Kirksville opened conference play.

KIRKSVILLE 26 - WARRENSBURG 17. In undoubtedly the most exciting game of the season, the Bulldogs downed the Warrensburg Mules 26-17 after trailing 17-0 going into the final period. At that point freshman, Jack Ball, took charge of the sputtering Bulldog offense and set off a Bulldog explosion that produced four touchdowns—three by Paley Mills, and a fourth on a 20 yard pass to Red O'Neal.

KIRKSVILLE 33 - ROLLA 7. Five thousand five hundred Homecoming spectators saw a fine Bulldog eleven run its unblemished victory string to six straight, as the Miners of Rolla were humbled 20-7. Dale Mills was again the big offensive gun for Kirksville as the slashing Bulldog halfback struck paydirt twice and passed for a third T.D. to Wayne O'Neal.

KIRKSVILLE 0 - CAPE GIRARDEAU 36. With the M.I.A.A. conference crown beckoning, the unbeaten Bulldogs invaded Indian territory only to be ambushed and smothered under an avalanche of Cape touchdowns. The mighty Indians, playing before a large gallery of Homecoming alums and not letting up for a moment, completely dominated the entire contest and sent the hapless Bulldogs home, tails between their legs, muttering "wait till next year."

KIRKSVILLE 12 - MARYVILLE 12. Playing host to the victory-hungry Bearcats, the Bulldogs, still stunned from the previous week's disaster, could manage only a tie with the gridmen from Maryville. Anxious Bulldog boosters saw their team fall behind at intermission, 6-0. The 'Dogs came back strong in the second half, and after tying the score, finally went ahead in the fourth period. Learning the hard way that the game's not over till the gun sounds, Kirksville saw victory number seven snatched from their grasp as Maryville tied the score in the remaining few seconds.

KIRKSVILLE 38 - BRADLEY U. 8. Riding into Kirksville on a wintry storm, the Bradley Braves from Peoria, Illinois, invaded Bulldogland, eagerly stalking enemy scalps. The revitalized Bulldogs shambled any hopes the Braves had of victory as they thoroughly trounced their opponents in a resounding victory. Dale Mills, playing as if the slippery layer of snow blanketing the gridiron was only a myth, turned in another yeoman's job by racking up 30 points and 212 yards rushing. Jack Jones and Milt McPike accounted for the additional eight points, while speed-merchant Wayne O'Neal displayed another sparkling offensive performance.

All-American Dale Mills searches for a hole in the Puma defense.

Mills leads nation in rushing for second year

As Autumn ushered in a new football season, Dale "Paley" Mills, Kirksville's great junior halfback, was on hand to once again thrill thousands with his prodigious gridiron exploits. For nine straight games Mills ripped unmercifully through enemy defenses, leaving awed spectators staring in a state of disbelief. When the schedule expired, Mills, for the second straight year emerged as the NCAA small college rushing champion with 1385 yards to his credit. Together with this and last year's total, Mills set a new two-year national rushing record of 2743 yards, while also rewriting the record for number of carries, 248, for one season. His 124 points scored were good for the runner-up position in the national scoring race.

For his efforts, Paley was named All-American by the Williamson National Rating System and was selected to a third team spot by the Associated Press. Additional laurels were heaped on Mills as he repeated for the second consecutive year as an unanimous MIAA all-conference choice.

The Bulldogs' fine senior tackle, co-captain R. E. Potts, was named to a MIAA second team all-conference berth.

K-Club sponsors Harlem Magicians

"Program, sir? Only twenty-five cents." This is a familiar sound to all who have observed enthusiastic K-Club members peddling their wares at home athletic contests.

As an additional project for supplementing its treasury, the K-Club again brought to the Campus the Harlem Magicians who kept crowds rolling in the aisles to the clown antics of Marques Haynes and his cohorts. The K-Club each year also sponsors the Homecoming

Pep Rally which features the coronation of the Homecoming Queen.

K-Club was founded on the campus of the Teachers College for the purpose of establishing and maintaining good public relations among the student body, the faculty, the people of Northeast Missouri, and the athletes of this College through united and energetic promotion of worthy projects and activities. Membership is limited to those who have won varsity letters in one of the sports on campus.

Veteran Bulldog cagers post outstanding season

COACH BOYD KING

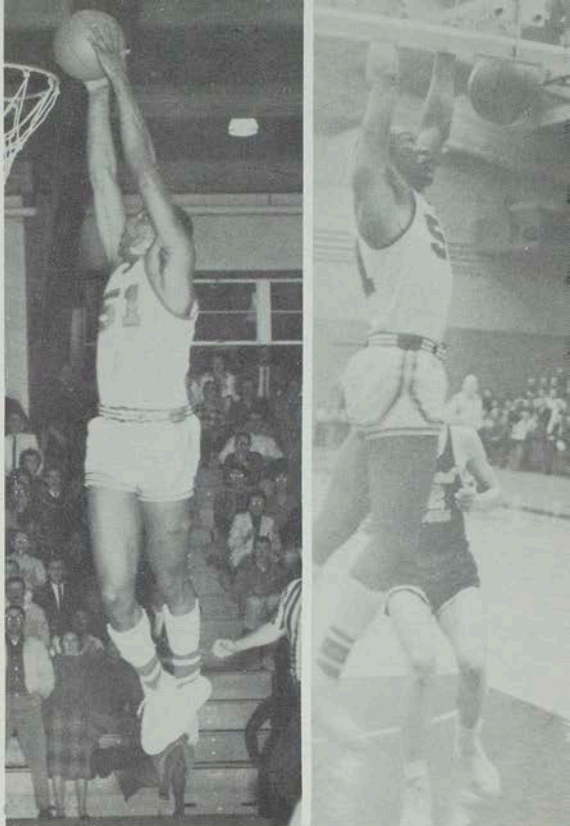

The 1959-60 edition of Northeast Missouri State basketball opened in surroundings unfamiliar to old Bulldog fans, as the King-coached roundballers moved from their old "crackerbox" home to take up residency in the new capacious Pershing Field House. Promising to make the '59-60 season a huge success, a veteran Bulldog squad, bolstered by the return of ten lettermen, was picked as the pre-season favorite to capture the MIAA conference title—a vote of confidence well founded.

IOWA STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE entered into the Pershing Building inauguration ceremonies by providing the Purple and White with a 86-72 victory in the season's initial contest. Looking as bad as they had looked good during the Iowa Teachers match, the Bulldogs kicked away a game with the QUINCY HAWKS, 67-59, and followed it up with 73-72 double overtime loss to WESTERN ILLINOIS despite Larry Swift's 26 points. It was the second straight year that the powerful Leathernecks had beaten the Kv. cagers by one point. Once again hitting the .500 mark, Kirksville, with Bulldog Russ Bennett holding sharpshooter Bob Castenada in check, bounced the ROCKHURST HAWKS 51-45. MISSOURI VALLEY served as a 84-64 breeze for the Bulldogs.

Playing host to an undefeated MARYVILLE five, Kirksville put a 66-56 blemish on the impeccable Bearcat record. Down four points at halftime, the 'Dogs, in the second half, exhibited come-from-behind tactics, a trait they were to become notorious for in the latter stages of the season.

During the Christmas vacation, Pershing Building served as the site for the first annual MIAA Holiday Tournament. In Kirksville's first game, the top-seeded Bulldogs, evidently feeling the Christmas spirit too strongly, handed the eventual tourney champion CAPE GIRARDEAU a 75-70 victory. After holding a commanding 14-point lead with only ten minutes remaining, Kirksville switched from run-and-shoot play to control ball and fell before the ambushing Indians. The Bulldogs managed a pair of victories over WARRENSBURG and EASTERN ILLINOIS on the two successive nights and wrapped up fifth place. Kirksville's two outstanding performers, LARRY SWIFT and JERRY BURDITT, were named to the ten man all-tournament team.

Taking to the road in search of their latent potential, the Bulldogs scored a nine point victory over the lowly WARRENSBURG MULES and eked out a thrilling 66-64 victory over ROCKHURST in Kansas City. Back at home for a one game stand, Kirksville placed its immaculate league leading record on the line against a strong SPRINGFIELD aggregation. Larry Swift, Kirksville's great junior sensation, rose to the occasion by burning the nets for 27 points, and combined with Eddie Brown to repeatedly block Bear shots.

Kirksville plays host to MIAA Holiday Tourney

The Big Hooker.

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Kirksville's perennial nemesis, caused Bulldog heads to hang a bit lower by scoring another come-from-behind win over the aggravated Purple and White. It was a replay of the MIAA Tourney meeting of the two clubs as the 'Dogs led the entire game, only to see that lead vanish in the final 2½ minutes.

Finally seeming to have found themselves, the Bulldogs sent the ROLLA cagers back to their mines with a rousing 96-68 win. Kirksville followed up with a 89-75 victory over the WILLIAM PENN STATESMEN as Larry Swift and Jerry Burditt returned to their scoring form. WARRENSBURG fell next before the charging Bulldog machine, 84-67.

Kingmen avenge Quincy, Cape defeats

Who's got the tip?

With upset in mind, upstart MARYVILLE, every bit capable of turning the tables on Kirkville, forced the Bulldogs to scratch and bite for every point as a 63-61 Bulldog victory came only after the Bearcats had sent the game into overtime.

The QUINCY HAWKS came into town with intentions of repeating their December triumph over Kirkville, but the 'Dogs would have none of it. In a rough and tumble contest, the revenge-seeking Bulldogs were quite inhospitable as they clobbered their guests 83-59 in a game that was clearly Kirkville's from the opening tipoff.

The very trite adage of "number three's a charm" proved to be quite true for the Kv. Bulldogs as the invading CAPE GIRARDEAU INDIANS were unable to score a third straight victory over a superior Kirkville team. Even the Herculean efforts of all-conference sophomore Carl Ritter were not enough to offset the formidable Bulldog attack. Led by Larry Swift's 29 counters, Kv. posted victory number fifteen.

'Dogs gain crown; Burditt, Swift named all-conference

King, Gardner, and trainer Pittenger grin after a "victory shower."

Hoping for a share of the MIAA crown, the SPRINGFIELD BEARS greeted the visiting Kirksville Bulldogs with a deluge of baskets, giving the hosts an early lead. The mighty Bulldogs quickly retaliated behind the leadership of Larry Swift, and in the second half took control of the game as Mike Samuel came off the bench and unleashed a barrage of sensational shooting. As the final buzzer sounded, Kirksville had handed Springfield its first home loss in 41 games. By posting a 85-73 victory, the Bulldogs gained undisputed title of MIAA Conference champions and the automatic right to represent the MIAA in the NCAA Regional Tournament. To close out the regular schedule, Kirksville barely squeaked past an inspired ROLLA quintet, 70-68.

Two Bulldogs, Larry Swift and Jerry Burditt were honored by being named to the MIAA all-conference first team. Swift, a unanimous choice for the second consecutive year, once again performed with the greatness of a player skilled in every aspect of the game. For Burditt it was his initial selection to a first team berth as the dependable senior guard was a second team choice last year.

Evansville, here we come!

'Dogs advance to national tourney

As play turned from MIAA to NCAA, Northeast Missouri found itself playing host to one of eight NCAA regional tournaments throughout the nation. Together with Kirksville, two Texas teams, Abilene Christian and Lamar Tech, and Colorado College composed the four team tourney slate.

The Kirksville Bulldogs drew as their first round opponents, the Lamar Tech Cardinals. For a full twenty-minutes it was miserably uncertain as to whether the jittery Bulldogs would advance to the finals. However, as second half play resumed, a riled-up Bulldog five charged past the floundering Cardinals and eventually squeaked out a thrilling 82-81 triumph, decided only in the last six seconds.

It was power-laden Abilene Christian pitted against Kirksville in the tourney's finale. Spectators had the night before seen a tall, hot-shooting ACC team streak to a 109-65 slaughter of Colorado College, and for the most part were pessimistically anticipating the Bulldog-ACC Wildcat clash. The game from the off-set appeared to be Abilene's, and even into the second half Kirksville was down by as much as 16 points. From that point the Bulldogs unbelievably made up the 16 point deficit and pulled away to an eleven point lead, all in a matter of a few minutes. The completely demoralized Texas team was unable to regain their early game poise and the wild, capacity crowd cheered the 'Dogs on to a 79-76 victory.

Larry Swift, who scored 53 points during the tourney's action, and Milt McPike who rebounded like a Bill Russell, were both named to the tournament all-star team, with Swift being selected as the tournament's most valuable player.

With two exciting Southwest Regional victories to their credit, the Bulldogs opened the national NCAA tournament in Evansville, Indiana against Cornell College of Iowa. Picked to give defending champion Evansville the most competition, Northeast Missouri couldn't quite produce another come-from-behind win, as a much smaller Cornell team upset the mighty 'Dogs. The Rams of Iowa, led by sharpshooter Ron Altenberg, pulled away by 19 points with but 12 minutes remaining before the Bulldogs finally decided to make their customary late move. Valiant Bulldog efforts whittled the lead away in short spurts, only to have the clock run out with Kirksville behind, 83-81.

It was a long journey home for the dejected Bulldogs as they took consolation only in their truly outstanding season and 19-5 record. To help ease the pain a bit, Larry Swift was honored once again by being named to the United Press International small college All-America third team.

Pep Club assists Cheerleaders

Sedentary cheerleaders advertise.

"Go, Bulldogs, Go." This familiar college yell could well describe the Pep Club as they work together to encourage Bulldog spirit.

The Pep Club girls, dressed in their purple skirts and jerkins, assist the cheerleaders at home and out-of-town games by arousing special interest in Bulldog activities. Always on hand to give the team a send-off to each out of town game, the Pep Club was also on deck when they returned from capturing the M.I.A.A. crown.

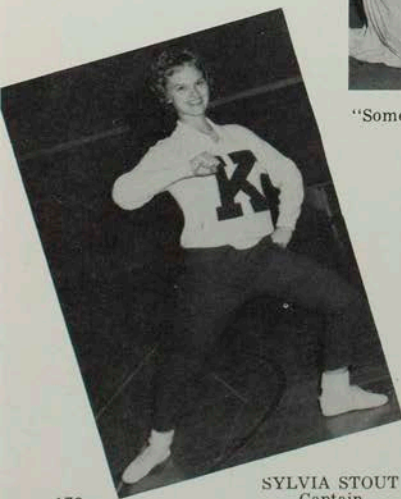

This new addition in our Campus spirit department was the inspiration of Phyllis Knode, sponsor, and a group of College women.

Veteran thinclad squad defends indoor and outdoor titles

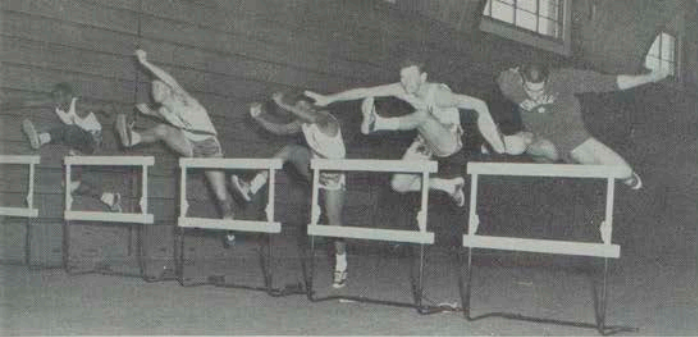

COACH KENNETH GARDNER
Track Mentor

Opening the 1960 season with virtually the identical squad that completely ran away with the 1959 M.I.A.A. indoor and outdoor meets, the Bulldogs hoped only to improve on the previous year's undefeated record by tackling competition of a bit higher caliber.

The Bulldogs, under the leadership of Coach Kenneth Gardner, have suddenly developed into a mighty track power, attributed to the tremendous depth displayed by Kirksville in nearly every position.

As the Bulldogs were pointing toward two more consecutive conference crowns, many informed individuals were predicting a season of broken records and great things for the thinclad teachers. With a host of experienced lettermen and outstanding freshman, this prediction could well be applied also to years yet to come.

Hills, valleys, snow, and rain served as obstacles to Bulldog harriers, but failed to daunt their running spirit as success was not to be denied them. Running in seven dual meets, the Bulldogs behind lettermen Bob Lewis, Tony Barulich, and Jim McFadden, turned in a record of six wins and one loss in dual competition. The single loss came at the hands of a very strong Western Illinois team.

In the Quincy Invitational, the Leathernicks of Western again proved to be the Kirksville nemesis as the defending champions fell under the stampeding feet of the Western cross-countrymen.

Challenging all the other conference schools, Kirksville displayed exceptional depth as Tony Barulich, Jim McFadden and Bill Augustine ran one, two, and three, pacing the "Dogs" to the coveted MIAA crown. As additional assurance, Bob Lewis and Wayne Sutter placed sixth and seventh.

In the season's finale, Bob Lewis, Tony Barulich, and Jim McFadden participated in the NCAA meet held in Wheaton, Illinois and from a field of 170, placed 34th, 47th, and 50th respectively. The runners were hampered tremendously by a six inch blanket of snow covering the 4-mile course, and by an 18 mile an hour wind.

Tough schedule marks 1960 tennis season

The 1960 tennis season was initiated on a note of pessimism as Coach Ralph Pink was greeted by the return of only a single letterman, Captain Lloyd Brown. However, several young Bulldog prospects were vying for recognition and were hoping to duplicate the sparkling 1959 performance of Captain Brown. With such potent opposition as St. Louis U., Iowa U., Missouri U., and Lincoln U., the '60 schedule appeared to be a mighty tough road for the young Bulldog "racketeers" to hoe.

Coach Boyd King and his experienced linksters eagerly anticipated the commencement of the 1960 golf season, as they were hoping to repeat as MIAA Conference champions. With the return of several fine lettermen, including MIAA medalist Bill Feehan, KSTC loomed as the "team to beat."

Intramurals develop competitive spirit

Under the capable guidance of Ralph Pink, the intramural program at Kirksville State developed wide interest and enthusiasm among men students due to a more intense and varied program. This year, fleetball, an improvised version of football, made its initial appearance on the Kirksville campus and was immediately a success. The B.B.W.C.'s romped past all comers to cop the fleetball crown.

As cold weather forced intramural action inside, sixteen teams entered the volleyball program, eventually won by the Hotshots. Also, as indoor competition, basketball created by far the most interest, drawing 37 team entries. Stepping outside to celebrate Thanksgiving prematurely, several ambitious males ran against each other in competition for a twenty-pound turkey.

With spring came the intramural track meet, and with the meet came numerous gung-ho individuals who had forgotten how long it had been since they were high school athletes. By the day's end, over-indulging "athletes" could be seen strategically located, bent over in classic form or sprawled out on cool grass in spread eagle formations.

Chalk up two!

Intramural basketball creates action.

Greek's Week

"Which one will I choose?"
is the question in the minds of the prospective rushees.

Who's a Greek? Greeks and guests both enjoy dancing.

Bulldog boosters, Wow!

Seriously, the Greeks made lovely music.

What part of the country are they from?

Statue or Real?

Listening or dancing, it's good music.

Christmas Dance features Glenn Miller Band

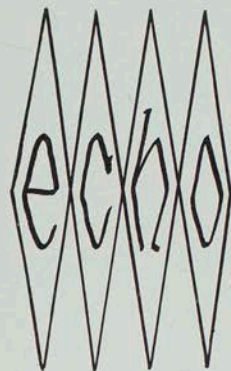

"More punch or cookies anyone?"

"Is that 'really' Santa?" Two young ladies try to decide.

Congratulations, Boys! Joe Hasenstab and Ted Mittler, Regent Debate Award winners receive their $50 check from Pres. Walter H. Ryle and Mr. Sherod Collins.

1960's Debate and Barnwarming

Weeks of work precede any debate. This fact is well known by all debaters and their coach, Mr. Sherod Collins, of the speech department. This year's question is— Resolved: That Congress Should have the power to reverse the decisions of the Supreme Court. Every year arguments of this type are prepared, both affirmative and negative, by the ever-traveling debate squad.

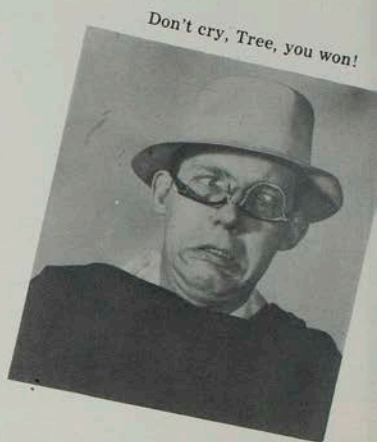

Revived this year with enthusiasm, the Barnwarming Dance gives members of the Agriculture and Colhecon Clubs a chance to toe tap in country style. Rustic decorations of hay, baled and otherwise, created the atmosphere and served as tables and chairs. To carry out the theme, cider and donuts were served.

Carefully arranged bales of hay provide a setting for Barnwarming King Van Eaton and Queen Stout.

"Mirror, Mirror on the wall, who is Ugliest of them all?" "Tree" Miller fit all qualifications. Here he is being congratulated by last year's Ugly Man, Terry Lantz.

Miller wins dubious honor of Ugly Man

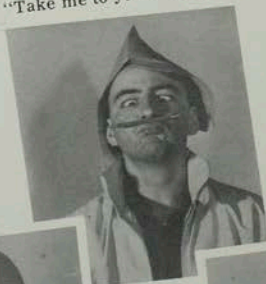

Who's the ugliest man on campus? This year it was Jerry "Tree" Miller sponsored by Sigma Tau Gamma. Jerry's victory was announced at the annual Alpha Phi Omega Ugly Man Dance which climaxed their fund-raising drive for CARE. Proceeds reached the all-time high of $245.

Miller's keen competition included Breck Brown, Phi Sigma Epsilon and Alpha Sigma Alpha; Jerry Hitt, Wesley Foundation; Neil Curtis, Alpha Kappa Lambda and Sigma Kappa; Joe Kelly, Sigma Sigma Sigma; Jerry Maddox, International Club; Edwin Smith, Honorary Art Club; and Francis Sporer, Delta Zeta.

Wednesday Morning --10 o'clock

"Thank you for the fine assembly," Pres. Walter H. Ryle says to the guest speaker.

There's a man with a line. Gene Vincent receives a $1000 check from Pres. Ryle for being the high student salesman in the Chicago district for Collier's Encyclopedia Co.

Let's hope that it's not that serious--at least not as serious as our faculty panel seems to indicate in their discussion.

Thirty-two selected

Scholarship, participation and leadership in academic and extra-curricular activities, citizenship and service to the school, and promise of future usefulness--these are the high standards by which students are measured for Who's Who.

for Who's Who

Recommended by a campus committee whose membership is unknown to the student body, each candidate is considered by the national organization from among candidates representing approximately 750 colleges and universities. Thirty-two students from KSTC were chosen this year.

The organization awards each member a certificate of recognition, which is presented on campus at the Awards Assembly in the spring.

Dear Mr. Sporer:

As an orchestra leader (specifically dedicating myself to the jazz idiom) I have the opportunity to play for many of our leading colleges and universities all over the country.

Upon examining the pictures of your candidates for King and Queen I realized how very fortunate I am to be able to see such handsome young men and women from September to June every year!

It was a most difficult decision, and particularly since I have not met any of them, but I feel reasonably sure they are all Kings and Queens in their own right. So congratulations, Larry Beaver and Pat Trenkle. As we say in the music business, have a swinging reign!

"Old Mis sou "

"Old Mis sou" and "Old Missouri,"
 And thou our love hath won,
 Fondly cling thee to the mem'ry
 Of old "Missouri's Son."
 Gladly thee our hearts we tender
 By the dim and flick'ring light,
 Every lad a proud defender
 Of the Purple and the White.

In debates or feats athletic,
 The broader field of life,
 Midst the shifting scenes of progress,
 Where the fiercest fights are rife,
 Taught by many a glorious vict'ry
 From many a hard fought fight,
 They have learned they have to reckon
 With the Purple and the White.

Hark the sounds of yells exult'ng
 From out the Tigers Den!
 Did ye hear the shouts of triumph?
 'Twas the Warrensburg brave men.
 Far above them hark the tumult,
 Like the triumph of the right,
 Underneath the sacred symbol
 Of the Purple and the White.

Though to Harvard, Yale or Princeton
 Should we onward still pursue,
 As adopted "Sons of Eli"
 To the violets prove true,
 Shall we ever cease to love thee,
 To tremble with delight
 As we mark the gallant flutter
 Of the Purple and the White!

echo

All good things must come to an end...

A photograph of a bronze statue of a man in a suit, standing on a white pedestal. The statue is positioned on the left side of the frame. The background is a lush park with many trees, some of which have yellowing leaves, suggesting autumn. The sky is blue with some light clouds. The overall scene is peaceful and well-maintained.
